FUNDING OF JOINT SHORT-TERM PROGRAMMES FOR MASTER'S STUDENTS AND PHD CANDIDATES FROM 4EU+ UNIVERSITIES

Heidelberg University is a member of the 4EU+ alliance, consisting of Charles University in Prague, Heidelberg University, Sorbonne University in Paris, the University of Warsaw, the University of Copenhagen and the University of Milan. 4EU+ aims to create a new quality of cooperation between the six universities in manifold areas. The goal is the creation of a 'European University' with compatible courses of study, flexible study paths for students and manifold mobility options for students and academic staff (www.uni-heidelberg.de/en/4eu-european-university-alliance).

The German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) provides financial support for joint short-term programmes in the framework of its supporting programme 'European University Networks'. Funding is available e.g. for workshops, block seminars, summer schools etc. at Heidelberg University for graduate students (Master and Doctoral) from 4EU+ universities.

Primarily activities that are not eligible for funding from the "Flagship Projects" (4euplus.eu/4EU-35.html) of the EU proposal "European Universities" are invited to apply.

Financial support of up to € 12.000 per activity can be provided for subsistence allowances for 5 days for up to 20 graduate students and 5 academic staff from 4EU+ partner universities as well as for conference material.

Besides Heidelberg University a minimum of two further 4EU+ universities should participate in the activity.

Activities	Duration	Extend of funding
Workshops / block seminars / summer schools for graduate students and academic staff from 4EU+ partner universities	up to 5 days	Subsistence allowance for graduate students and academic staff from partner universities Calculation: € 80 per graduate student per day € 120 per academic staff per day for accommodation and catering for participants Conference material € 260

Funding period: January to December 2022
