

Baden-
Württemberg
Stiftung
WIR STIFTEN ZUKUNFT

Outline of the Regional Development Politics Programme REK*

Within the “Baden-Württemberg Scholarship for students” programme for the promotion of international exchange, the Baden-Württemberg Foundation is awarding scholarships for the academic year 2022/23 to qualified students and graduates from ACP countries, Least Developed Countries and other traditionally underrepresented countries who would like to undertake study or research in Baden-Württemberg. To a lesser extent, Heidelberg students participating in an exchange in these countries may also be funded. A cooperation agreement with the exchange university is not strictly necessary. However, a formal recognition of cooperation would be welcomed.

Scholarship amount: 600 € a month for students and PhD students.
In justified cases the scholarship may be increased.

The scholarship may not be combined with other scholarships intended for the support of a stay abroad (e.g. DAAD)

Duration of support: At least two and no more than eleven months.
Subjects: All.

If you are organising exchange activities for the academic year 2022/23 and already know of candidates for this exchange, please let us know by 31 March 2022 at the latest.

Nominated candidates must later upload the following documents to the Baden-Württemberg Foundation online portal:

- Letter of motivation with details of previous study
- CV
- Proof of grades, for example degree certificate or interim study report.

Application address: Dezernat Internationale Beziehungen
Universität Heidelberg – Seminarstraße 2 – 69117 Heidelberg

Further information is available according to region through the following contacts:
Nicole Dorn (Latin America) Tel. 54-12730
Enrico Boccaccini (Africa) Tel. 54-12737
Oliver Piller (Asia) Tel. 54-12734

 This announcement is subject to the allocation of funds from the Baden-Württemberg Foundation.*

 For the list of applicable countries, see appendix. (Please note, support for exchanges with Colombia and India are no longer possible as of 2020/2021).*