Information ⓘ A university entrance qualification is the basic requirement for enrolment in an academic programme at a university. Recognition of foreign university entrance qualifications takes place during the admission procedure after the university has received your application for a degree programme (prior to expiry of the application deadline and including all required documents). When assessing non-German qualifications, Heidelberg University applies the evaluation framework provided by the Central Office for Foreign Education (Zentralstelle für ausländisches Bildungswesen, ZAB). University entrance qualifications can be submitted as uncertified copies of the original documents, along with the corresponding sworn translation into German or English in the case of foreign higher education and university certificates. In case of admission, applicants must submit officially-certified copies of their certificates and translations at the latest when they enrol at Heidelberg University.
