HEIDELBERG UNIVERSITY: THE FUTURE. SINCE 1386.

Founded in 1386, Heidelberg University – also known as Ruperto Carola – is the oldest university in present-day Germany and one of Europe’s most research-intensive institutions. Its success in all the funding rounds of the Excellence Competitions and in internationally recognised rankings are evidence of Heidelberg University’s leading role and excellent reputation in the academic landscape. Heidelberg University sees itself as a comprehensive research university, whose subjects range from the humanities, social sciences and law, to the natural, engineering, and life sciences through to medicine. It seeks to develop outstanding individual disciplines, strengthen dialogue and cooperation across traditional subject lines in view of complex challenges, and carry its research findings into society. With its aspiration of connecting traditional values with forward-looking scientific strategies in research and teaching, Heidelberg University is building bridges to the future – The Future. Since 1386.

EXCELLENCE IN RESEARCH

Academic dialogue across disciplinary boundaries

As a research university with an international presence, Heidelberg University considers the extensive theoretical and methodological expertise of its subjects and subject cultures to be an essential characteristic of its scientific work. At the same time, it recognises its unique potential to investigate important issues affecting the future of humankind, and thus take on social responsibility, by encouraging cooperation across disciplinary boundaries. The core of Heidelberg’s research strategy is formed by four interactive research fields, which in their turn are more strongly linked with one another by the Marsilius Kolleg and two Flagship Initiatives.

Interactive “Fields of Focus” (FoF)

- FoF 1: Molecular Foundations of Life, Health, and Disease
- FoF 2: Patterns and Structures in Mathematics, Data, and the Material World
- FoF 3: Cultural Dynamics in Globalised Worlds
- FoF 4: Self-Regulation and Regulation: Individuals and Societies

Flagship Initiatives

- Engineering Molecular Systems
- Transforming Cultural Heritage

With its strategy “The Comprehensive Research University – Heidelberg: The Future since 1386” along with two Clusters of Excellence, Heidelberg University was successful in both funding lines of the Excellence Strategy of the German federal and state governments. Accordingly, since 2019 it has been funded as part of a group of ten Universities of Excellence and one Excellence Alliance.
